

Cambridge Judge Business School

Site Expansion

THE CAMBRIDGE JUDGE BUSINESS SCHOOL SITE EXPANSION PROJECT

Work has now commenced on the creation of a beautiful new extension to our existing building. Set to open in 2017, it will allow us to bring the Cambridge Judge Business School community and our activities under one roof and will support our plans for growth.

UNIVERSITY OF CAMBRIDGE
Judge Business School

Be a part of this important milestone

---

Cambridge Judge is already a world-class business school that leverages the power of academia to have real-world impact on business, on innovation, and on crucial issues facing society at large.

Now, our students, staff and neighbours will all play an integral role in the site's development, and we'll be involving everyone along the way so that they truly feel part of this important milestone in the School's history.

The end result will be exceptional facilities, built in accordance with sustainability targets that we need here at Cambridge Judge as we embark on the second 25 years of our existence and our aspiration to become one of the world's very best business schools.

What will be included in the site expansion?

---

A comprehensive site master plan was published in December 2013 detailing our overall vision for the Old Addenbrookes site on which we are situated. That plan encompasses two main phases of development and we are currently only carrying out the first phase, which will meet our priority needs.

The main focus of the project will be the development of a large building on the rear of the site replacing the existing student hostels on Tennis Court Road. This facility will provide world-class teaching facilities for executive-level programmes, two raked teaching spaces for degree programmes and a combination of open plan and individual offices and meeting rooms and significantly enhanced dining facilities.

This first phase will also include some refurbishment of Keynes House and the creation of a bridge between Keynes House and the main Cambridge Judge building.

How will this project be paid for?

---

Phase 1 of the project is currently estimated to cost £32 million to construct plus a further £2 million to fit out the building.

We are extremely grateful to The Monument Trust, established by the late Simon Sainsbury, for their exceptionally generous gift of £13 million to support this project. The donation follows the Trust's founding gift of £5 million in 1991, which helped to establish the Judge Institute of Management Studies (as was) in this building.

The remainder of the costs will be met through a combination of a loan from the University and philanthropic support.

Key milestones

---

1. Planning application approved, spring 2015
2. Demolition of hostels, summer 2015
3. Completion date of the phase 1 development, mid-2017
4. Events throughout 2015 and 2016 will provide our students, staff and neighbours with opportunities to be involved in this exciting project. Updates will be published regularly on our website.

CJBSPLUS25

If you would like to show your support for the School, you can do so by donating £25 or more through our CJBSPLUS25 campaign.

Visit: www.jbs.cam.ac.uk/alumni/cam25

For more information:

siteexpansion@jbs.cam.ac.uk

www.jbs.cam.ac.uk/siteexpansion