

The undergraduate degree must not be in management or business, and no more than three modules (at single or joint honours level) must have been taken for credit in management or business-related subjects. A list of business and management-related modules is available below.

Please note that this is non-exhaustive list.

Accounting

- Introduction to accounting
- Intermediate accounting
- Advanced accounting
- Financial accounting
- Managerial accounting
- Cost analysis for decision making
- Auditing
- Tax accounting
- International accounting or international financial reporting
- Financial statement analysis
- Early stage entity accounting
- Accounting for financial institutions
- Accounting for M&As
- Forensic accounting

Finance

- Corporate finance
- Finance
- Topics in corporate finance
- How to do (research in) finance

HR management

- Organisational behaviour
- Organisational theory
- Human resource management
- HR analytics
- Diversity and inclusion
- Decision making
- Job design
- Strategic HRM

- International HR and cross-cultural management
- Leadership
- CSR
- Business ethics
- Reward and compensation
- Organisational change

Marketing

- Principle of marketing
- Marketing management
- Strategic marketing
- Branding strategies
- Digital marketing
- Marketing research
- Consumer behaviour
- Pricing strategies
- Channel management

Operations management

- Operations management
- Quality management
- Management Science
- Decision Analysis

Strategy

- Business strategy
- Corporate strategy
- Mergers and acquisitions
- Strategic decision making
- Strategic alliances
- Corporate governance
- Strategic renewal

Supply chain management

- Supply chain management
- Global supply operations
- Supply management
- Purchasing management
- Logistics management