The undergraduate degree must not be in management or business, and no more than three modules (at single or joint honours level) must have been taken for credit in management or business-related subjects. A list of business and management-related modules is available below.

Please note that this is non-exhaustive list.

Accounting

- Introduction to accounting
- Intermediate accounting
- Advanced accounting
- Financial accounting
- Managerial accounting
- Cost analysis for decision making
- Auditing
- Tax accounting
- International accounting or international financial reporting
- Financial statement analysis
- Early-stage entity accounting
- Accounting for financial institutions
- Accounting for M&As (mergers and acquisitions)
- Forensic accounting

Finance

- Corporate finance
- Finance
- Topics in corporate finance
- How to do (research in) finance

HR management

- Organisational behaviour
- Organisational theory
- Human resource management
- HR analytics
- Diversity & inclusion
- Decision making
- Job design
- Strategic HRM (human resource management)
- International HR and cross-cultural management
- Leadership
• Corporate social responsibility (CSR)
• Business ethics
• Reward & compensation
• Organisational change

Marketing

• Principles of marketing
• Marketing management
• Strategic marketing
• Branding strategies
• Digital marketing
• Marketing research
• Consumer behaviour
• Pricing strategies
• Channel management

Operations management

• Operations management
• Quality management
• Management science
• Decision analysis

Strategy

• Business strategy
• Corporate strategy
• Mergers & acquisitions
• Strategic decision making
• Strategic alliances
• Corporate governance
• Strategic renewal

Supply chain management

• Supply chain management
• Global supply operations
• Supply management
• Purchasing management
• Logistics management