

EPRG Energy & Environment Seminar Programme Easter Term 2022

Tuesdays at 2-3pm on Zoom (unless advertised otherwise)

Online-only unless advertised otherwise – please contact EPRG Administrator (eprgadm@jbs.cam.ac.uk) for details

- 26 April Hongyu Nian (Shanghai Jiao Tong University, visiting Cambridge University EPRG) The long-run effects of air pollution on human capital, knowledge and innovation accumulation

(Note: In-person event from 12.30pm at Judge Business School)
- 3 May Tooraj Jamasb (Copenhagen Business School) The new energy state: A review of offshore governance regimes for renewables as natural resources
- 10 May Imelda (Geneva Graduate Institute of International and Development Studies) Variable pricing and the cost of renewable energy
- 17 May Jacob Mays (Cornell University) Risked equilibrium and resource adequacy in electricity markets
- 24 May Michael Grubb (University College London) The “new economics” and geopolitics of the energy transition: are we entering a new era?
- 31 May Daniel Navia (Cambridge University EPRG) Evaluation of financial risks implicit in the EU’s national energy and climate plans

(Note: In-person event from 12.30pm at Judge Business School)
- 7 June Svetlana Ikonnikova (Technical University Munich) The global energy transition: The future roles of hydrogen

(Note: Hybrid in-person & virtual event from 12.30pm at Judge Business School)
- 14 June Sam Fankhauser (Oxford University) The impact of climate legislation on carbon emissions, leakage and growth

Seminar organizer: Robert Ritz (rar36@cam.ac.uk)