Why did you choose to study for an MBA?

"I had been working at Google in San Francisco for five years and I wanted to pivot to AI. It's the future. And I was very interested in entrepreneurship. Having been based in California, I wanted to do an MBA in Europe and I was looking for a one year course. The MBA programme at Cambridge offered more AI enabling resources than other European business schools I had considered. I chose Cambridge because it's the heart of where technology is built and founded in the UK. I chose it because the Cambridge ecosystem is so strong."

What was it like living in Cambridge for your MBA year?

"Well, I am now living back in the US, in LA and it is such a driving city. Cambridge on the other hand is so walkable and I really miss just bumping into my MBA classmates on the street and having those little moments of connection with them. I also miss all the events across Cambridge Judge and the University of Cambridge ecosystem. It's just these small micro events that really make your day."

Tips for those starting their MBA.

"I would say for anyone thinking about the Cambridge MBA, maybe one good piece of advice is really understanding what your priorities are coming in, because there's so much you can do all the time. There are College formals, there's talks, there's networking events and there's the classes. For me, the two most important goals coming into the MBA were, first, pivoting into AI and truly understanding that space and second, building meaningful connections – not just with my classmates, but also with people from other disciplines beyond the Cambridge Judge community."

"An MBA is about resilience; you are going to get knocked back at times. But it also gives you the confidence to take the leap. I advise you to 'dare to dream'."

Supporting your ambitions in consulting

The route from an MBA to a consulting role is a popular one – consulting firms hire MBAs from many different industry and function backgrounds.

Consultancy firms look for people who can thrive in high performance teams and understand the importance of team goals and objectives.

There are also some desirable skills and traits that all consultancy firms look for and this is how we advise Cambridge MBAs to present themselves as they network, apply and interview for their target consulting roles.

While it is a popular choice for many MBA students, recruiting experience at Cambridge has shown it's a highly achievable target for people with a range of different backgrounds, with the right preparation and work and with engagement with the Cambridge Judge Business School Careers Team and resources.

"I needed to come to Cambridge to discover this side of me. I am pivoting into consulting, and I have moved to London from the USA."

Joao Pedro Bekenn | Brazil | Asset Manager, Generate, UK

What career goals led you to pursue an MBA?

"I wasn't just looking to do an MBA – I was drawn to Cambridge's unique offering. It provided a distinct set of experiences that I knew would be invaluable to my career. Already working in tech and startups in Dubai, I aimed to break into the highly competitive venture capital sector, where having an edge is essential. Cambridge stood out because of its deep connections to the tech industry and its strong ties to the Silicon Fen ecosystem."

What extracurriculars helped develop your leadership and learning during the MBA?

"I was involved in developing the school's first AI special interest group, hosting a one day seminar series during a visit from BCG's Head of AI. Being a Cambridge student opened doors that wouldn't normally be accessible, giving me connections to very senior leaders worldwide. The University is a hub of expert talks and events happening daily, constantly expanding your perspective. There are very few places on this planet that afford you access to these kinds of intellectual stimulation."

Any tips for prospective MBA students?

"Cambridge Judge is buzzing with activity and FOMO is real coming into the programme – but the school provides plenty of support to help you navigate it. At first, I said yes to everything to explore my interests. My advice? Say yes as much as you can but learn to prioritise."

Forging a role in the tech sector

Technology roles are bouncing back across all sectors, both tech heavy and traditional industries. Use of technology is now so endemic that it is often not listed as a separate function but taken as an integral feature of many industry roles.

Roles in technology dominate the industry category. From our most recent graduating class, 33% of graduates who took up jobs in industry work in technology. This reflects the global strength of the technology sector and Cambridge Judge Business School's unique place at the heart of one of the most successful technology clusters in Europe.

Our biggest recruiters in recent years are from:
Amazon | Google | Shopee | Genpact

Why an MBA and why Cambridge?

"Looking at the Cambridge MBA specifically, I was really drawn to the collaborative and practical nature of the course, especially the many consulting projects. The diversity of the cohort was also a huge draw – it's been such a joy to learn from people who have a completely different background to my own. I also wanted to get exposure to the Silicon Fen tech ecosystem and the entrepreneurial hub that is thriving in Cambridge. There are lots of exciting entrepreneurs in Cambridge – it's great to be so close to all this innovation!"

How did founding the AI Special Interest Group support your MBA and career journey overall?

"Founding the AI Special Interest Group (SIG) was one of the most rewarding experiences of my MBA. With AI shaping the future of business and society, it was the perfect moment to create a forum where students, academics and professionals could engage in meaningful discussions. Alongside my Co-Founders, we launched the AI Open Day, featuring speakers from MBB firms, AI driven startups and leading researchers. Leading the AI SIG provided invaluable insights and connections that continue to shape my work today."

Which academic or extracurricular achievement are you most proud of during your school year?

"My proudest moment of the Cambridge MBA was giving a presentation at the House of Lords in the UK Parliament. As part of our MBA course, we take part in the Cambridge Venture Project (CVP) and our team project was with Diversity UK. Our client was fantastic and it was fascinating to give a talk in the heart of the UK's Government."

Location, location, location

Cambridge Judge Business School enjoys a prime location in the heart of Cambridge, surrounded by the University's historic colleges and vibrant academic community.

As part of one of the world's most prestigious research universities, the School sits just minutes from iconic landmarks such as King's College Chapel and the River Cam. We're also close to leading innovation hubs including Cambridge Enterprise, St John's Innovation Centre (Europe's oldest incubator) and the Aurora Innovation Centre. The city itself provides a stunning backdrop to your studies – a blend of green spaces, historic architecture, and a lively social and cultural scene. And with London just 45 minutes away by train, you'll benefit from easy access to the capital's professional opportunities and major international airports.

Cambridge may be compact enough to cross by bike, but its global reach and impact are immense.

In a place like this, you can't help but grow.

"It really is a global programme and has provided me with an amazing opportunity to have a network that spans all around the world."

Ed Bosson | UK | Booking.com, Business Manager – Cruises, Boston, USA

Cambridge Judge Business School sits at the heart of the Cambridge Cluster

"Innovation is the lifeblood of Cambridge Judge and the wider Cambridge ecosystem. Innovation in Cambridge is contagious and the city's relatively small size helps breed that because innovative people are always running into other brilliant minds to share ideas and exchange knowledge."

Michael Kitson | Associate Professor of International Macroeconomics
Cambridge Judge Business School

Since opening its doors in 1990 the Business School has focused on being a world class centre of immersive, transformative business education as well as a leading centre of research.

Our location offers the perfect environment for the development of this research by forward thinking entrepreneurs.

The University of Cambridge sits in the middle of the Cambridge Cluster or Silicon Fen – the most successful tech cluster in Europe – a group of more than 5,000 companies based in the city generating a combined annual revenue of more than £15.5bn and employing more than 61,000 people. The Cambridge Cluster attracts the largest investment per capita in Europe and five times that of London.

We have close links with these businesses – many are Cambridge Venture Project clients or mentor our students – some are start ups formed by Cambridge MBA alumni. This means you have unique access to an unparalleled network of entrepreneurs, technologists and business experts who live, work and study right here in the city.

Also, Centres at Cambridge Judge such as Accelerate Cambridge, The Entrepreneurship Centre and The Centre for Social Innovation provide an unrivalled portfolio of programmes and connections to relevant societies, enterprise champions and departments across the University of Cambridge.

The 2023 Global Innovation Index placed the Cambridge Cluster as Number 1 in the world for top science and technological cluster by intensity, measured by its size.

Cambridge Cluster
Global #1 for most intensive Science and Technology activity

Your College life

When you join a Cambridge MBA cohort you also become a member of one of the 31 University Colleges. The Colleges offer a unique aspect of the Cambridge experience and allow you to become a lifelong member of a College community and enjoy the many traditions of the University of Cambridge.

The majority of single MBA students are offered accommodation by their College. You can expect different facilities in different Colleges. Some may offer more modern facilities including en-suite bathrooms, while others may not. Some Colleges have family accommodation.

Not all College accommodation is situated within the main College grounds. Many graduates want to live in College houses or private rentals in and around the easily accessible city centre to participate fully in Cambridge daily life.

Each College has its own character, with its own internal governance and procedures, but all have a diverse student body. They select their own students subject to University regulations and most admit both undergraduate and postgraduate students.

Many students join a College sports club, such as a rowing club, or one of the many other societies. You can also take part in regular Formal Halls, a traditional evening dinner in academical dress in some historic dining halls. Most Colleges have a May Ball annually or every other year.

College life helps you diversify your school network – you can meet and be inspired by students and academics from a wide range of disciplines. This can lead to exciting and fruitful collaborations: MBAs have joined forces with collegiate peers to create new ventures.

It is the responsibility of the MBA Admissions Team to apply and secure a College place for you. This process happens after you have accepted an offer to join the MBA.

You can learn more about the University Colleges online at:
www.postgraduate.study.cam.ac.uk/colleges/college-key-facts-and-figures

"My Cambridge College has been like a second home for me because that's the first thing you get to when you arrive in Cambridge and they really go out of their way to make you feel at home."

Jonathan Lee | Singapore | International AI Governance Project Manager, Concordia AI, Beijing, China and Singapore

Bring your next generation

At Cambridge Judge Business School we welcome MBA students who wish to come here with their families. The city and University is a vibrant and welcoming location for families, offering a wide range of opportunities for a supported and enriching family life.

The city has a cosmopolitan population with schools welcoming children from around the world. The University also runs two nurseries in the city, close to the School.

Most Colleges offer accommodation for couples or families and many have facilities for parents to meet and socialise together. If you choose to live with your partner or family outside of College, the University's accommodation service can help you find a place.

Each College has a designated childcare contact who is a voice for student parents within their College and several Colleges have nurseries or allocated places at nurseries.

Here to support you

We warmly encourage your partner to attend open days and other events where current MBA partners share valuable insights about life here. We are committed to providing support wherever possible to help you and your family settle in smoothly.

Why Cambridge Judge Business School? What stood out in your decision?
"Cambridge is a globally prestigious university and has a strong science community which aligned with my background. Its proximity to Silicon Fen – the Silicon Valley of Europe, gave me an ideal opportunity to be exposed to some of the leading technology companies in the UK."

Where do you wish your MBA skills to lead you in your future career?
"I am exploring a number of career paths including ones that will allow me to utilise the strategic and analytical skills developed during the programme. I want to be in areas where I can help drive innovation, make informed decisions and add value through effective leadership."

What has surprised you about your Cambridge Judge experience?
"The College system at Cambridge and how each College somewhat operates independently. The way they work with the University is a tough one to get your head around, but they are great at providing an initial network at the University for social events, accommodation and support and they are a special part of the experience here."

Have you any tips and thoughts for those applying to the Cambridge MBA?
"I would recommend speaking to alumni from the various schools you are interested in. Not only will they be able to tell you about their experiences there and where it has led them, which will hopefully help you narrow down where to apply, but they can also help give an insight on what they think worked for them during the application process."

I would also try and start the process earlier as this will give you plenty of time to study for the GMAT and complete the application process, which can take longer than expected, but applying for the courses in the early application rounds can help with your application success and provide a greater selection of Colleges/ accommodation."

"I saw the MBA as a chance to solidify my knowledge, explore new fields and build essential leadership skills."

Put theory into practice

Projects are woven into the MBA curriculum to give you the most effective and rigorous learning experience. We put your classroom learning to the test within a real life setting through projects.

Three of the MBA projects you will undertake are team related projects involving company clients or external practitioners.

The Cambridge Venture Project (CVP)

In term one you will work in teams of four or five on a live market analysis challenge for a Cambridge startup or entrepreneurial venture. The CVP will give you first hand experience of some of the challenges faced by innovators in high risk, high pressure environments. We allocate a mentor to each team and the Cambridge Judge Business School faculty have input.

You can expect to:

- Investigate market opportunities for a new product, service or treatment
- Evaluate consumer behaviour and competitive forces in relation to these, using qualitative and quantitative analysis techniques
- Generate insights into potential strategies, opportunities for commercialisation and possible routes to market.

The Global Consulting Project (GCP)

For many students, the Global Consulting Project (GCP) is a real highlight of their studies. It's a valuable opportunity to apply what students have learnt, experience new sectors or roles, travel and to start building career networks.

Small teams of students consult with blue chip international organisations on a particular aspect of their business. Students are able to either pick their top three choices – which informs how teams are created and selected – or they can source their own project.

Concentration Project: Board Impact

You will choose from one of eight Concentrations in your third term. At the end of your Concentration you undertake a team project in which you will present your findings to experts in a simulated boardroom situation.

Summer Projects

To allow you to tailor the MBA towards your own individual career objectives, we also offer a choice in the final Summer term. Options include undertaking research, an individual project or a work placement. We also offer Case Writing, Sustainability Bootcamp or the International Business Study Trip.

Business Case Writing

This course is an opportunity for students to learn by doing. Students will individually choose an organisation to base their case study on. They will investigate through interviews and desk research a major business challenge that the organisation is facing. Based on their research students will then write up a case study of the firm and the options it can employ to address the challenge it is facing. The case will be written as a pedagogical tool that can subsequently be used in the classroom for learning through role play and discussion.

The Individual Project (IP)

The opportunity to experience real work as a consultant on a business problem located in any commercial, industrial, public sector or not for profit organisation anywhere in the world. You can expect to work full time for six to eight weeks during July to September, depending on the client's requirements and your post MBA plans. Recent projects have included product extension strategy for a financial services company, analysis of the US railway sector and branding strategy development for a national retailer.

Lean Six Sigma and Scrum

Six sigma is a powerful management tool that promotes process improvement, cost reduction and significant enhancement of bottom line performance. Lean thinking focuses on the elimination of non value adding work and reduction in waste to increase profitability. It is no surprise that Lean combined with six sigma is one of the largest business initiatives today.

International Business Study Trip (IBST)

The International Business Study Trip is a week long visit to a global location carefully selected based on current economic trends around the world with all lectures for the course delivered during the trip.

Research paper

Students undertaking a research paper can expect to be involved in independent, in depth research into an area of business management. You will deliver a 4,000 word paper written for a business audience similar to those in publications such as Harvard Business Review or the Sloan Management Review.

Sustainability pathway

At Cambridge Judge Business School, sustainability is a core focus of our MBA. We prepare future global leaders to integrate sustainable practices across business, government, non profits, and international organisations. Through specialised courses, real world projects and a diverse learning community our MBA equips you with the knowledge and skills to drive positive impact and address global sustainability challenges throughout your career.

Work placement

Many students opt for a work placement of six to eight weeks during July to September. You can gain valuable experience and it can sometimes lead to an offer of full time employment. Previous employers offering internships include:
The Financial Services Authority
Credit Suisse Private Banking
Google
Amazon
Asian Development Bank.

Curriculum for growth

“Completing my MBA at Cambridge meant I had the privilege to meet some amazing people, learn new perspectives and polish up my management and business skills to re-enter the working world with an upgraded toolset.”

Case study | Beautiful Destinations

Global Consulting Project

Case study | Emirates Airline

The Host
Beautiful Destinations is a company with a following of over 20 million people across its platforms, the world's largest travel community on social media.

Beautiful Destinations (BD) has grown from its stunning Instagram posts to a purpose driven travel media brand and award winning creative agency with the mission to create the world's most inspiring travel content using elevated storytelling to reveal what lies at the heart of a destination, its culture and its people.

The Project
A group of Cambridge MBAs from diverse industries and geographies, worked with BD to explore new revenue /growth strategies. The team developed an end to end strategy for a new business stream for BD.

The Cambridge Judge Business School Faculty
The project was supervised by Lionel Paoella, a University Lecturer at Cambridge Judge and an Affiliated Faculty at Harvard Law School. Lionel's main line of research explores how market categories – a set of firms that share cognitive and cultural similarities – affect the social evaluation and performance of organisations.

The Impact
"The GCP team did a fantastic job and showcased agility and adaptability when needed. We were particularly impressed with their ability to convey different ideas and best practices during their final presentation.
The team delivered a great result and Beautiful Destinations is extremely grateful for all of their wonderful work!"

Brooke Witt, Global Communications & External Affairs, and Nick Evans, Co-Founder Beautiful Destinations

The Host
Emirates Airline is a subsidiary of The Emirates Group which is wholly owned by the government of Dubai's Investment Corporation of Dubai.

It is the largest international airline and the fourth largest overall airline in the world, operating over 3,600 flights per week from its hub at Dubai International Airport to more than 140 cities in 81 countries across six continents.

The Project
The Global Consulting Project (GCP) team was asked to look for productivity gains via automation in a key cost environment. The team was asked to develop a business case including detailed benchmarking and vendor identification for their final recommendation.

The Cambridge Judge Business School Faculty
The project was supervised by Dr Benn Lawson, Senior Lecturer in Operations Management and Director of the Centre for Process Excellence & Innovation (CPEI). Benn's research and teaching interests focus on supply chain strategy, supplier relationship management, product design supplier integration and new product development.

The Impact
"The Cambridge GCP team delivered tremendous value to the project. The team completed a comprehensive study to develop the required business case. Students used data analytics as well as research to deliver the project and ran workshops with the client. Their work was very well received by all."

Sadiq Gillani | SVP | Emirates Airline

Global Consulting Project

It has over 8,000 employees globally in 26 countries focused on client needs across the globe. The project was managed by Kunal Guha, who provided guidance and input for the project team. Further Invesco stakeholders are Simon Redman, Simon Ware and Nicolas Steiner, each contributing to the project with their expertise in real estate and technology.

The Project
The Global Consulting Project (GCP) team was asked to investigate application of blockchain technology in the expansion of private markets which are historically illiquid. Specifically, the team helped to explore opportunities in tokenisation of real estate.

Robert is a leading expert in understanding how and why alternative channels of finance emerge outside the traditional banking and capital markets system.

The Impact
"The GCP team did an impressive job within a short amount of time! From the start, the project was defined clearly and covered a large subject area. The team analysed both primary and secondary data, which included a good range of factors relevant to influencing decision making in this area. They developed some very sound strategies."

Kunal Guha | Manager, Strategy and Operations | Invesco

The Host
Prime Ventures manages €700 million, investing in companies across Europe. The fund focuses on technology driven companies in rapidly growing markets in the technology and related industries such as consumer internet, ecommerce, digital media, software, mobile computing, communications, infrastructure services, semiconductor and clean technology.

The Project
Monish Suri and his team have offered Cambridge MBAs the opportunity to learn about VC investment for many years. Every year a Global Consulting Project (GCP) team works closely with the Partner of the group to identify exceptional investment opportunities in agreed geographies in Europe or emerging sectors. Teams consider disruptive companies and identify a selection of companies which fit the investment profile for Prime Ventures. The teams are expected to defend their recommendations.

The Cambridge Judge Business School Faculty

Focus on Concentrations

Concentrations are thematic collections of courses and projects run for MBAs during the second and third terms. They are run by specialist coaches – a member of our faculty or an external business professional – with expertise in the given field.

Students choose one Concentration and a set of related Electives. Concentrations also include Coach Nights – sessions run by the Coach and typically involving external speakers – in which students discuss what they have learnt.

Each Concentration culminates in a final team project where teams present their findings in a simulated boardroom situation.

Concentrations can help:

- Increase your employability
If you want to move into a new sector or you want to increase your understanding of an industry.
- Broaden your perspective
Many students use the opportunity to glimpse a world they might not otherwise experience, expanding their skillset.
- Expand networks and open doors
- Focus your pathway
Having a range of suggested Electives alongside other courses, offers flexibility. But, it is also a clearly signposted road with additional coaching, expertise and discussion.

These details are correct for the MBA Class of 2025 and are subject to change each year.

Securing loans and funding

We understand that investing in an MBA is a big decision, but the outcomes for Cambridge Judge Business School alumni prove the worth of the investment time and again. The Admissions teams here at Cambridge Judge can help you consider how to meet the cost.

Students use a range of funding sources to fund their MBA year from personal savings to family or bank loans and employer support. Remember, not all funding needs to be in place when you apply. It's at the offer acceptance stage that you will need to show you have the funds in place.

Start planning early, be open minded and keep sight of your end goal – the opportunities unveiled by a Cambridge degree and the lifetime network you'll join are well worth the undertaking.

As well as the scholarship awards we offer some additional funding awards or Distinction Awards based on merit at the discretion of the Admissions Committee, should you be successful at interview.

Scholarships and Distinction awards

The scholarships available to Cambridge MBA students range from Distinction awards from Cambridge Judge Business School, University of Cambridge and College scholarships, to external funding. If you want financial assistance with fees through scholarships, you should apply in the earlier rounds. Scholarships and awards range in the amounts offered.

"Pursuing the Cambridge MBA programme may be a strategic step I am taking for my career development, but it is also a gift to myself. The only reason why I was able to accept my offer from Cambridge was thanks to this scholarship and I cannot be prouder of myself."

Yoon Kim | South Korea/UK | London Business School

All scholarships and Distinction awards are awarded before the start of the academic year. There are no funds that can be awarded after the school year has started. Candidates should not make financial plans assuming that they will receive funds after they have started the programme.

Loans

The loans available to candidates holding an offer for the Cambridge MBA range from The Prodigy Finance Loan Programme which has been exclusively created for MBA candidates, to Career Development Loans and country specific loans.
